

A Financial Institution that Gives Back to Its Members

Telstra Credit Union gives away $2,000 to one happy member who made the choice to bank with them.

At a time when Australia's big banks continue to debate about who should break-up with whom, it is a welcome relief to see that Telstra Credit Union, the leading credit union to Australia's information technology sector, is still focusing on what matters most - its members. As part of their 'Switch and Win' promotion, in which they encourage consumers to switch their home loan over to the credit union, Telstra CU gave away the first of four generous $2,000 Freedom furniture vouchers to one happy member, Ms Natasha Cossell.

Ms Cossell was thrilled to hear the news and has many ideas of how she will spend her prize. Having been a member with Telstra CU for over 17 years, Ms Cossell speaks openly about her credit union and her Telstra CU Relationship Manager, Geoff Loone, who assisted her to secure her new loan, "His reassurance and invaluable advice saw me through it; I would've been lost without him".

Telstra CU's 'Switch & Win' promotion is currently running and is giving consumers the chance to win one of four $2,000 Freedom furniture vouchers. Leigh Glaser, CEO of Telstra Credit Union comments on their new campaign and the current 'big banks' break-up debate, "The amount of debate in the community today presents Australian consumers with the perfect opportunity to really examine their current home loan and determine if it is in fact, the best and most suitable to their needs or is there a better option out there that would be worth the switch?"

"Credit unions are strong, secure and regulated the same way as banks. We are ready to put competition back into retail banking and give Australian consumers a better deal. When you have your home loan with Telstra CU, you not only get a great interest rate, but also individualised service, because we focus on the most part of our business, YOU "

"There are still three more $2,000 Freedom vouchers we have to give away; with that kind of bonus, what better time for people to vote with their feet and switch their home loan to Telstra Credit Union." Mr Glaser said.
